

CALIFORNIA

Nationwide, COVID-19 has had a devastating impact on the arts. Thanks to historic investments, the NEA is helping the arts and cultural sector to recover, rebuild, and reopen. In 2022:

- Arts and cultural production in California added 8% or $290.3 billion to the state's economy.
- California's arts and cultural industries employed 847,688 workers. These workers earned wages and benefits totaling over $141.3 billion.

GRANTS TO THE STATE

Over a five-year period (FY 2019-2023), the NEA distributed $65,935,504 in federal funds to grant applicant organizations in this state, either directly or through state and regional partners.

The Arts Endowment awarded 1,840 direct grants throughout California over the past 5 years, totaling $65,690,504. These direct grants included:

- The Pacific Conservatory Theatre's outreach and engagement programs for youth in California's rural central coast communities
- A public art project to revitalize sites that were damaged by wildfires in Middletown
- A tuition-free summer film academy taught by CalArts faculty for students from underserved communities in Los Angeles

NEA NATIONAL INITIATIVES IN THE STATE

In addition to offering direct grants, the NEA supports national initiatives benefiting people across the country. Over the past five years:

Blue Star Museums program provided free admission to thousands of active military personnel and their families at 263 participating museums in California.

Poetry Out Loud program provided opportunities for an average of 18,499 students per year attending 859 unique high schools in California to appreciate—through study, memorization, and public recitation— great poetry.

The NEA Big Read program generated 1,030 community events focused on reading outstanding American literature and involving more than 87,812 adults and students in California.
